LOOTED BY SOLDIERS.

Wrecking several lunchrooms, threatening the proprietors with bodily harm if they interfered, and hurling bricks through the windows of residences in Decatur street, between First and North Capitol streets northeast, members of Company K, Fifth Pennsylvania Volunteers, last night made a sensational exit from Washington when arrest seemed imminent.

Reserves of the Sixth precinct were called out, and when the policemen charged the soldiers the latter scrambled aboard their train, which was sidetracked nearby, and which was about to start for Philadelphia, and ordered the engineer to "let her go."

The soldiers first entered the lunchroom conducted by J. W. Mosburg, at 1412 First street, and ransacked the building. The troops destroyed everything in sight and, so the employers say, took what money there was in the cash drawer.

A clerk, who attempted to stop the men, was hurried out of the store by a rear door and threatened with bodily harm if he dared return before they had finished their work.

Nearly everything of value in sight was taken. Cigars and cigarettes bulged from the soldiers' pockets when they left the store, and bundles of all kinds were tied up in bundles.

After they had left the store, a score of the soldiers returned and turned over the store, broke the show cases, and threw chairs through several windows. The cash register was thrown on the sidewalk.

It was shortly before 8 o'clock that a detachment of soldiers on the way to a Baltimore and Ohio train in the Eckington yards conceived the idea that they must have some fun before leaving Washington. The word was passed along the cars and in five minutes several hundred men were on the grounds.

The soldiers after ransacking several places invaded a lunchroom near North Capitol and O streets. They broke every window in the building chased the proprietor from his desk, and created havoc in general.

The owner of a grocery store at First and O streets northeast was badly beaten by the soldiers and compelled to flee from his place of business.

Twelve years ago the Pennsylvania troops broke loose in Washington and destroyed a large amount of property, besides assaulting several people. Pennsylvania was called upon to pay damages on that occasion.

DENTIST LOSES EYE.

With his left eye removed and the sight of his right eye seriously impaired, Dr. Lonnie Robson, a dentist of Charleston, S. C., is a patient at the Episcopal Eye, Ear, and Throat Hospital in Washington. Physicians attending him say that his condition is serious and that he may be blind for life. His injuries are the result of an altercation with a negro. Dr. Robson went to Washington to attend the inauguration ceremonies with Company D, Third regiment, of the National Guard of South Carolina. The command of which he is a member is known as the German Fossiler Company.

Late Thursday night Dr. Robson went to Harvey's restaurant, corner of 11th street and Pennsylvania avenue for supper. While in the restaurant, Dr. Robson had a dispute with a negro waiter employed at the restaurant, during which the negro struck the dentist a blow in the face. The negro's fist struck Robson's spectacles and drove a portion of the lens into his left eye. The negro then hurried from the place. Yesterday afternoon it was found that the sight of Robson's left eye was destroyed, and the injured eyeball accordingly was removed. Last night Dr. Lamb said that Robson's right eye was in a serious condition as the result of complications caused by sympathetic nerves.

"WETS" WIN POINT.

The "wets" won a big victory yesterday in the local option contest in Rennoke, when Judge Staples, of the Corporation Court, ruled that an amendment to the original petition of the contestants was admissible.

This provides for a general attack on the tax lists as prepared and furnished by City Treasurer Davis for the recent local option election. In effect, it means that the validity of the entire tax list will be attacked, if being alleged that the list is furnished by Davis was not prepared in accordance with the constitution and the laws of the state.

Judge Staples declared that in event the election should be set aside on the grounds specified in the amendment the cost of the proceedings would be placed on the contestants.

The "wets" are jubilant and believe now that the saloons will not be closed on April 1. The case has been in court two weeks and is practically at an end.

Remarkable Story

The story of Mrs. Matilda Warwick, of Kokomo, Ind., as told below, proves the curative properties of that well-known female remedy, Wine of Cardui. Mrs. Warwick says:

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

"I suffered from pains in my head, shoulders, limbs, side, stomach low down, dizziness, chills, nervousness, fainting spells and other female troubles. I was almost dead. Three doctors did not help me. At last, I took Cardui, and with the first bottle obtained relief. Now I am cured. But for Cardui, I would have been dead." Try Cardui.

STYLE

Isn't a commodity that you can buy in handy, dust-proof packages at any druggist's. The ability to confer style is a gift. The designers that possess it can be counted on your thumb, fore and middle fingers.

Our garments are designed expressly for us by a manufacturer [who is a very dear detail].

Might as well try to explain a sunset to you as to attempt to tell you about the style of our clothes. We can't put it into print, but we can put it on your back.

Why buy an old garb, when the 'Brighton' Flat Clasp Garb costs no more than a so-called 'just as good' Flat as a quarter—a quarter a pair.
